416 /148 cont./ Almost all Tongan households also have smaller or larger mirrors, and 805 in some houses one even sees alarm clocks and vases with paper
353 flowers as a special adornment. The crepe-paper strips in garish 353 colors probably also became common as ornaments in dwellings (they often hang on the posts and suspended from the beams, because they are something special on the islands which are rather monotonous in color, just as the newspaper clippings and magazine illustrations on the posts and crossbeams are coveted because of their "curiosity-value." Various dwellings display, as decoration, more or less faded photographs of family members taken on the main islands. One very rarely finds 207 radios in Tongan houses; the reason may be less because of the difficulty of obtaining sets, but rather the inconvenience of providing them with dry cell batteries or accumulators. However, as a result of 404 the adoption of European textiles, sewing machines have become widely 177 used. One often sees the small hand-crank machines which are so practical for the Tongan way of sitting; but one also comes across treadle sewing machines, older ones as well as recent cabinet type 296 machines. For laundering textiles probably all households today are provided with zinc tubs and washboards, and in many households one 411 sees heavy flat irons heated with coconut shells. The weapons (clubs 178 and spears) which in the old sources are counted among the "household 179 equipment" have long since disappeared; only occasionally one sees 415 an old European shotgun. In the cook huts, now and then in the 177 dwellings, one still finds some of the traditional wooden bowls and basins which are being more and more replaced by the easily obtainable enamel basins, aluminum bowls and zinc tubs, just as the /149/ clay pots formerly imported from Fiji (393)
